Summary

I'm a 3rd-year B.Tech student at KIIT, deeply passionate about Machine Learning, Data Science, Deep Learning, AI Agents, and everything in between. From building smart systems that adapt and learn, to diving deep into data to uncover insights, I thrive at the intersection of intelligent algorithms and real-world impact.

I actively work on ML projects—ranging from NLP-driven ESG models to LangChain-powered research agents—and constantly explore how AI can be applied to solve practical challenges. Alongside this, I love solving Data Structures & Algorithms problems—there's something uniquely satisfying about cracking complex logic and finding optimal solutions.

Whether it's crafting models, interpreting data, or architecting AI workflows, I'm always learning, adapting, and building. If you're passionate about innovative tech or just love a good DSA challenge, let's connect and collaborate!
